SU AT A GLANCE

The resources of a University ...

6,600 students from 38 states and 37 foreign countries 40 undergraduate and 11 graduate programs 290 full-time faculty, 90 percent of tenure-track faculty have terminal degrees, including National Endowment for the Humanities scholars and Fulbright professors. NCAA Division III Athletics, 9 men's, 10 women's inter-collegiate teams; 19 intramural sports

... with small-school opportunities.

Approachable faculty
(17:1 student/faculty ratio)
Honors program with dedicated faculty at the Bellavance Honors Center.
Ten residence complexes including traditional, co-ed, suite and apartment styles.

The security of state support ...

2002-03 tuition, room, board and fees: $11,154 per year for Maryland residents; $16,918 per year out-of-state.
A library with over 800,000 volumes, periodicals, microforms and databases including word processing and computer labs. Access to collections throughout the country.

... with the benefits of private funding.

Altogether, SU awards some $1 million in academic scholarships each year. More than $24 million in private endowments supports some of those scholarships and provides for some of the finest educational programs.

In an ideal—and idyllic—location:

Salisbury, MD, is 30 miles west of the Atlantic Ocean and Ocean City, MD, and 20 miles east of the Chesapeake Bay; 2 hours from Baltimore, Washington, D.C. and Wilmington, DE. The campus is 2 1/2 hours from Norfolk, VA, and Philadelphia, PA, and 4 1/2 hours from New York.

Come see us—in person, or in cyberspace. We'd love to see your smiling face, but if you can't get here, check out our Web site. We're at www.salisbury.edu.

SU's campus is in an attractive, residential neighborhood of stately homes on sculpted lawns, less than one-half mile from the banks of the Wicomico River. The campus includes 46 buildings on over 140 landscaped acres. Students walk from one end of campus to the other in about 5 minutes.

Dawn Chamberlin completed her 16th season as head coach of the Salisbury University field hockey program in 2002 with another championship season to add to her long list of accomplishments with the Sea Gulls. Chamberlin, who already ranked among the most successful coaches in school history, guided the Sea Gulls to a 17-3 final record in 2002 and their sixth appearance in the NCAA Tournament's Final Four.

SU captured its eighth straight Capital Athletic Conference championship and returned to the NCAA Championship Tournament for the 18th time in 19 years. The Sea Gulls were also the number three ranked team in the final NFHCA poll for the 2002 season.

Since her first season in 1987, the Sea Gulls have qualified for the NCAA Tournament 15 times, with five appearances in the Final Four. In addition, Salisbury hosted the Final Four for the first time in 2000. The program has produced 29 national All-Americans—including two more in 2002—and 69 all-region players during Chamberlin's tenure. Salisbury's 221-77-8 record under Chamberlin translates to a winning percentage of .735.

Chamberlin, who registered her 200th career victory during the 2001 campaign, has been honored as the NFHCA's South Region Coach-of-the-Year three times. She has also been named the Capital Athletic Conference's Coach of the Year in each of the past eight seasons. She led her squad to an amazing streak of 45 consecutive CAC victories between 1996 and 2001.

Chamberlin is a 1985 graduate of the University of Iowa, where she was a four-year letterwinner on the highly successful field hockey team. The Hawkeyes won the Big Ten championship outright from 1981 to 1983, before sharing the top spot in 1984. The '84 squad finished second in the nation. Chamberlin, Iowa's co-captain as both a junior and senior, was also a member of the national indoor championship team and was selected to the All-Big Ten team during her senior year.

While at Iowa, she also received the Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Academic Award (1982-1985) and the Physical Education Academic Achievement Award (1983-1985). Chamberlin earned her Master's of Education from Salisbury in 1987 and her doctorate from the University of Maryland in 2000.

A TRADITION OF SUCCESS

During the past two decades, Salisbury has established itself as one of the premier field hockey programs among NCAA Division III institutions. The Sea Gulls are one of just nine schools to have captured the national championship since its inception in 1981, claiming the top prize with an undefeated 21-0 campaign in 1986. Since their first visit to the NCAA postseason tournament in 1984, the Gulls have become a regular contender for the national title, with appearances in 18 of the last 19 NCAA postseason tournaments through the 2002 season.

In addition to the national championship in 1986, SU has advanced to the Final Four on five other occasions, finishing as a national semifinalist in 1987, 1988, 1992, 2000 and 2002. Additionally, the Gulls have been national quarterfinalists four other times since 1989. Salisbury's outstanding facility has also served as a regional host site for the national championship tournament on four occasions, including in both 1996 and 1997, and host of the Final Four in 2000.

The Sea Gulls notched 10 consecutive winning seasons from 1983 to 1992, and finished in the top ten in the final rankings in each of those seasons. The Sea Gulls finished the 1997 regular season as the number one ranked team in the final NCAA Division III national poll, placed second in the final poll of 2001, and third in the final 2002 poll. SU has reached double-figures in wins in 18 of the last 20 seasons and has averaged 14 wins per year during Dawn Chamberlin's tenure as head coach.

Salisbury also claimed its eighth straight Capital Athletic Conference championship in 2002. The Sea Gulls compiled a record 45-game conference winning streak between 1996 and 2001.

Quality programs are comprised of talented individuals. Salisbury is well represented on the national and regional all star teams each season. During Chamberlin's tenure, the Gulls have produced 29 national All-Americans and had a total of 69 players selected to the all-South Region team. Additionally, Chamberlin has been honored as the region's Coach-of-the-Year three times and the Capital Athletic Conference's Coach of the Year eight times, including 2002.

Team captains (l-r) Jacqui Aliberti, Jill Cressor, Lindsey Elliott and Lindsay Bard meet with officials prior to the start of the 2002 national semifinal game.

TWO SEA GULLS EARN ALL-AMERICA HONORS

Lindsey Elliott, Jill Cressor Receive National Award

Coming on the heels of a 17-3 season and third place finish in the NCAA Championship Tournament, two Salisbury University field hockey players were recognized as national All-Americans, as announced by the National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA). Their selections mark the 17th straight year that at least one Sea Gull player has been represented on the all-America squad.

Junior forward Lindsey Elliott was selected to the 16-player first team and senior forward Jill Cressor was named to the second team. Elliott earns the national award for the first time in her career, while Cressor becomes the third Salisbury player to receive the award three times in her career.

Elliott led the Sea Gulls and the Capital Athletic Conference in scoring in 2002 with 21 goals, six assists and 48 total points. Her 48-point total is the eighth highest single-season output in SU team history.

Cressor receives second team AA honors this season after earning third team status in both 2000 and 2001. She finished second on the team and in the conference in scoring with 16 goals, eight assists and 40 points. Cressor concluded her four-year career as Salisbury's all-time scoring leader with 80 goals, 14 assists and 174 points.

Elliott and Cressor were also two of six Sea Gulls who earned all-conference honors in 2002. Elliott was the CAC's Player of the Year, while her freshman sister Brittany Elliott was the CAC's Rookie of the Year. Chamberlin was selected by her peers as the CAC's Coach of the Year for the eighth straight season after guiding her squad to its eighth straight conference championship.

Salisbury earned its sixth NCAA final four berth in 2002 while also appearing in the NCAA Championship Tournament for the ninth straight year. The Sea Gulls rallied from a 2-0 halftime deficit in the national semifinal game, but lost 3-2 in overtime to eventual NCAA champion Rowan.

"It certainly was a great year for us," said Chamberlin. "We accomplished all of our goals except for winning the national championship. Even in the semifinal game, we demonstrated a lot of heart and guts to come back from a 2-0 deficit against the number one team in the country. That was pretty awesome."

SU'S ATHLETICS PHILOSOPHY

Salisbury University, a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) Division III, offers 21 intercollegiate sports for men and women. In addition to NCAA membership, SU competes as a member of the Capital Athletic Conference (CAC) and the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC).

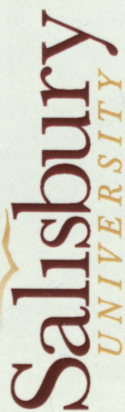

As a member of the NCAA's Division III, Salisbury places the highest priority on the overall quality of the educational experience. In doing so, it seeks to strengthen the integration of objectives and programs in athletics with academic and developmental objectives, and to assure the integration of athletes with other students.

SU places special importance on the impact of athletics on the participants, with emphasis on the internal constituency (students, alumni and special friends) rather than on the general public and its entertainment needs.

The SU athletics program is further characterized by the following principles:

- Participants receive the same treatment as other students. They have no unique privileges in admission, academic advising, course selection, grading, living accommodations or financial aid. Similarly, athletes are not denied rights and opportunities that would be available to them as non-athletes.
- Sports for men and women are given equal emphasis and the desired quality of competition is similar in all sports.
- Students are supported in their efforts to reach high levels of performance by providing them with adequate facilities, competent coaching and appropriate competitive opportunities with students from similar institutions.
- SU strives to make the student-athlete's participation in intercollegiate athletics an enriching experience, and holds genuine concern for each participant's welfare. The intercollegiate program's foremost goal at all times is to supplement and enrich the first priority of the University, which is academic accomplishment.
